

Grand celebrations

Students of Delhi Public School, Joka, South Kolkata, paid rich tribute to Gurudev Rabindranath Tagore as they celebrated his 155th birth anniversary with great verve on the school campus on the day before his birthday. Lighting up the lamp and garlanding the portrait of Tagore marked a perfect beginning of the programme. The Multipurpose Hall of the school was replete with mellifluous melodies of Tagore's compositions as the School Choir set the mood of the day by their heart-warming performance. The recitation and dance based on the theme 'Writuranga' happened to be everyone's novelty. The colourful programme reached its zenith as the little dancers of the school left the spectators on the edge of their seats with eye-warming performance on the foot-tapping numbers like 'Megher kole rod hesheche', 'Esho shyamala shundaro', 'Ore grihobashi' etc. Students were full of joys of spring as they got a platform to showcase their talents and fascinating performances. The beautifully decorated programme ended with motivational words from the Principal of the school, Ms. Writuparna Chatterjee.
